

ABOUT US: wienXtra-institut für freizeitpädagogik

The wienXtra-institut für freizeitpädagogik (Institute for Education in Leisure Time) is the further training site for open, extra-curricular youth work in Vienna. Courses, seminars, information evenings, conferences, trips – anyone who works and lives with children and young people has come to the right place. Discussions on creative new solutions and standards for child and youth work, as well as exciting input for daily work, are on the agenda. A well-equipped specialist library with a wide range of literature on youth work and education in leisure time completes the facilities.

The wienXtra-institut für freizeitpädagogik works for the City of Vienna and in close cooperation with The Department of Youth.
